Extension Office to host open house for local realtors

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE, SEPTEMBER 5, 2017:

NEW BRAUNFELS — To help get resources regarding county services, home care and landscaping into the hands of new residents, the Comal County office of the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service is holding an open house for local realtors and homeowners associations.

The free open house will be 9-11 a.m. Friday, Sept. 22. Refreshments will be provided. Attendees are asked to R.S.V.P. to Wanda Austin by calling 830-620-3440 or emailing wanda.austin@ag.tamu.edu.

“With more and more people moving into Comal County, we want to make sure these new homeowners have all the info they need about how to take advantage of the services offered by Comal County,” said county Extension Agent Connie Sheppard, “as well as how to best care for their new homes and yards.”

The event is open to all realtors and homeowners or property owners associations’ board members and representatives. It will include tours of the Extension Office grounds and a free voucher for a future educational program offered through the office.
